

The Sunflower Project (2012) – Spreading Sunflowers to Eastern Japan -
Support: Eastern Japan Environmental Support Working Group – The Sunflower Project Todai
Branch -

Spreading the Sunflower Spirit!

Is there anything that we can do to help those in Eastern Japan hit by the horrific earthquake on March 11th, 2011? Many thoughts and helping hands are spreading throughout the world. As our part, we have launched a project to donate sunflower seedlings to Eastern Japan in last April. The sunflower project (2011) received enthusiastic supports from many volunteers. Our 2012 project also needs your active participation. We had chosen sunflowers, flowers that soar up to the grand blue sky and cover a vast terrain, as “flowers of recovery.” We will donate sunflowers so that they can be planted at temporary housings and schools. By growing those sunflowers, we wish that those in Eastern Japan would also heal their wounded hearts and bring back their “bright smiles.” At the moment, we have already prepared all the sunflower seedlings, but we need volunteers help in seedling packing.

Calling on Volunteers for Sunflower Seedling Packing

Target: packing a total of 3,000 sunflower seedlings

Date: April 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, 20th (12:00PM – 13:00PM or 17:00PM – 19:00PM)

Location: Room 705, Institute for Advanced Studies on Asia, University of Tokyo

Contact:

For those who wish to help, you can directly email to Kyoko IKEDA, Representative of Eastern Japan Environmental Support Working Group – The Sunflower Project Todai Branch

Mail Address: k-ikeda@ioc.u-tokyo.ac.jp

TEL: 03-5841-5885

Sunflower
Project