

First Joint Workshop
Durham University and the University of Tokyo

Critical Nationalism Studies

Oct. 1, 2016

First Meeting Room (3rd Floor)
Institute for Advanced Studies on Asia
The University of Tokyo

Schedule

9.30-10am: Registration and breakfast

10-10.20am: Welcome

10.20-11:50am Panel 1: Mapping the (non-)Nation in Asia

Shigeto Sonoda (UTokyo)

Is China's Rise a Threat or a Chance?: Analysis of 2nd-Wave Asian Student Survey

Katsuo Nawa (UTokyo)

Not to be 'anti-nationalistic' in modern Nepal

11:50-12.00am: Coffee break

12.00-1:30pm Panel 2: The Citizen and the Sea: Topos of Critique

Aya Ikegame (UTokyo)

Suicidal Citizens: Buddhism, Secularism, and War in Japan

Claire Sutherland (Durham)

The sea as a political space for critiquing the nation: Southeast Asian perspectives

1:30-2:30pm: Lunch

2:30-4:00pm Panel 3: The Nation Form: Sovereignty and Law

Edyta Roszko (University of Copenhagen)

Fishers of the South China Sea: beyond the nation and territory

Yijiang Zhong (UTokyo)

Religion, Public Interest, and the Nation in Contemporary Japan

4.00-4:10pm: Coffee Break

4:10-4.40pm Discussion

Kate Coddington (Durham)(not presenting in person)

Precarious Lives 'beyond' the Convention: Refugees in Thailand

4:40-5:40pm: Vote of thanks to University of Tokyo and next steps

6pm~: Dinner

This workshop is generously sponsored by The International Office, Durham University
Institute for Advanced Studies on Asia, the University of Tokyo